Editorial Comments.

Atlanta, Ga., has fifty-two Baptist Churches.

St. Louis, like Hopkinsville, has a new charter.

Missouri will vote on a suffragist amendment in November.

The Swedish railroads are experimenting with peat for fuel.

China will soon start to mint more than $700,000,000 in silver.

Budapest, Hungary, is to have a suicide prevention bureau.

There were only two sympathy strikes in Canada last year.

Lewis county voted overwhelmingly in favor of a $150,000 road bond issue.

The fifth death from bubonic plague occurred at New Orleans Sunday.

Four persons were killed and many prostrated by the intense heat in St. Louis Sunday.

A male suffragette Sunday attacked Augustine Burrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Secretary McAdoo was attacked in the House for using a revenue cutter as a pleasure craft.

To discourage drunkenness France has removed the license tax from all but distilled liquors.

Denver is in gala attire for the twenty-eighth annual reunion of Elks which began yesterday.

We don't learn how to pronounce one Mexican name before another new one is flashed in the limelight.

The peaceful occupation of the capital of Mexico by Carranza's forces is the event to be looked for this week.

Lightning struck a house in which a negro was a leap in Louisville and set it on fire without arousing the sleeper. The fire-fighters had to wake him up to get him out.

Frank W. Woolworth is erecting a building 51 stories high in New York and will have his living apartments on the 40th floor, 760 feet from the ground. He evidently likes high living.

A woman attacked the auto in which King George was riding Friday, and smashed the glass in an effort to open the door. She shouted, "You must stop forcible feeding; we will tolerate it no longer." The police rescued her from a mob that was about to lynch her.

It is evident that Mr. Beckham will not under any circumstances be drawn into joint debate with Owsley Stanley. Each of them spoke to rival followings at Murray Saturday, although Stanley would have given his opponent two hours for one in a joint discussion. Stanley is camping on his trail and gaining every day.

Huerta's closest friends have escaped from the country and Huerta himself is to be given safe escort by the British representative. His successor stands ready to turn over the government, without further bloodshed, to the provisional president selected by the constitutionalists. After all, President Wilson's plan has worked out.

Loaded With Information.

Querido Moheno is coming to the United States to tell all about Mexico. He says that Col. Roosevelt was in a scheme looking to the disruption of Mexico and the acquisition by the United States of all the territory between the Rio Grande and Panama.

"And not only were the leaders of the Progressive party pledged to this policy," he added, "but politicians of both the Republican and Democratic parties had promised their secret support. That President Wilson himself has subscribed to this iniquitous conspiracy is evidenced by his attitude toward Mexico."

JUDGE LURTON DROPS DEAD

Expires Suddenly at Atlantic City Sunday of Heart Trouble.

BURIAL AT CLARKSVILLE.

Was Tennessee's Member on The United States Supreme Court.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 13.—Associate Justice Horace Harmon Lurton, died suddenly at a hotel here Sunday from heart failure superinduced by cardiac asthma. He was 70 years old.

The justice, who came here July 1, was in his usual health before retiring and had taken his customary evening outing on the board walk. Shortly after midnight he complained of feeling ill and although his physician was summoned immediately, Justice Lurton died at 5 o'clock this morning. His wife and son, Horace H. Lurton, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., were at his bedside. Mrs. Horace Van Deventer, a daughter, and her husband, arrived last night from Knoxville, Tenn.

The body will be taken to Clarksville, Tenn., for interment, the funeral party leaving here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It was at that city that Justice Lurton began the practice of law and lived for twenty years. Funeral services will be held there Wednesday. Chief Justice White and several associate justices of the supreme court, as well as many friends from different parts of the country are expected to be present. He was born at Newport, Ky., and was appointed Justice Jan. 3, 1910. He was a Democrat and Confederate veteran.

TWO RINGED POLITICAL CIRCUS

Performed in Murray Last Saturday With Much Noise.

Murray, Ky., July 13.—Saturday ex-Governor Beckham and Congressman A. O. Stanley came to Murray in behalf of their candidacy for the United States senate. The two men were met at the train by a brass band and a large and enthusiastic crowd, who divided and took charge of their favorite candidate. At 1:30 o'clock the Beckham followers gathered at the opera house to hear the former governor speak, while at the same hour the Stanley followers gathered at the court house to hear their favorite. For nearly two hours the two candidates stood almost in hearing distance of each other, telling their constituents of the other's faults and praising his own virtues. Both of the speakers had large and enthusiastic audiences.

HUERTA WILL SOON QUIT

Francisco Carbajal Named To Succeed Him Who Will Sue For Peace.

CARRANZA TOO WANTS IT

Peace In Prospect With The Constitutionalist In Possession of Government.

Vera Cruz, July 12.—The resignation of President Huerta may be placed before Congress Monday, the General departing immediately thereafter, for Puerto Mexico or Vera Cruz under British escort, according to reports in circulation here tonight which originated from a source that is usually well informed.

Reports from the Mexican capital also state that Francisco Carbajal, the newly appointed Foreign Minister replacing Esteva Ruiz, the Acting minister, on his way to Europe, will be made Provisional President. This appointment is said to be sanctioned secretly by both Gen. Venustiano Carranza, chief of the Constitutionalists, and the United States, and assurances are said to have been given by the Constitutionalists, that hostilities will cease with Carbajal's assumption of office.

Gen. Carranza issued a statement at Saltillo reiterating his intention of carrying out the plan of Gaudalope, which provides for the "Supreme Chief" assuming the duties of President ad interim.

STRUCK BY LIMB OF TREE

One Boy Is Killed Instantly and Another Seriously Hurt At Fulton.

Fulton Ky., July 10.—Alfred Rogers, aged eleven years, was instantly killed and his brother, Toney, aged five, was probably fatally hurt when they were struck on the head by the limb of a tree which was blown down by the storm.

The two boys, with three companions, were hurrying home to escape the storm when a large tree on the sidewalk was blown down. The two Rogers boys were unable to get out of the way and were struck on the head, but their companions were uninjured. The injured boy was rushed to the hospital, where an operation was performed on his skull, but it is feared he cannot recover.

OLD TIME RELICS.

Copper Cent 116 Years Old and Bank Check 97 Years Old.

Mr. C. F. Moore, of this city, has two old relics, one of them 116 years old. It is a copper cent larger than a silver quarter. On one side is the head of a woman, the word liberty and the figures 1798. On the other side is a wreath surrounding the words one cent. Around the margin is "United States of America" and the fraction one-hundredth expressed in figures. The first copper coins in the colonies were coined in 1737. The first ones issued by the republic were very large and these big ones are now quite scarce. The other relic is a check is used on the "Cashier of the Bank of Kentucky," at Frankfort, June 26th, 1817. It was given to Geo. W. Botts, collections in full, or bearer for $672.71 cents. The check is on very thin paper and is only 1 1/2 by 5 1/2 inches. It was signed by Jas. L. Hickman.

Pimple Killed Him.

Princeton, Ky., July 10.—An infection, developing from cutting a pimple on his chin while being shaved five days ago, resulted in the death of Albert Jones, aged twenty-eight, a resident of near Farmersville, this county.

WHEAT TO REMAIN HIGH

Agriculture Department Finds World Supply of Other Grain Scant.

Washington, July 13.—Despite a wheat crop estimate this year of 930,000,000 bushels, the largest on record, no hope is held out by the Department of Agriculture for greatly reduced prices.

This is because the world crops of wheat and competing grains do not promise more than the average of recent years.

Besides, more than the usual diversion of wheat from its use as food to its use as feed for live stock may be expected on account of the present relatively short supply of corn in sections where there is a promise of abundant wheat.

Corn Higher Than Wheat.

With corn selling in Kansas for about 7 cents more a bushel, than wheat it is not surprising, officials say, that much wheat should be consumed as feed by animals.

Kansas' corn crop last year was only 23,000,000 bushels, compared with the usual production of 150,000,000 bushels. This year's estimates are for a crop of 154,000,000 bushels of wheat.

It is estimated that about 45,000,000 bushels of last year's wheat crop was consumed as an animal feed.

VACATION EXTENDED

Officer W. D. Carter Fails To Report When Leave of Absence Expires.

IS IN BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA.

Concluded To Give Up His Job as Officer on The Local Force.

Policeman Wm. D. Carter was given a vacation of two weeks in June and went to Birmingham, Ala., and was expected to report for work on July 5. At that time he had not returned and so far as Chief of Police Raper is advised he does not intend to return. He has still not come back and no word has come from him except information in an indirect way that Officer Carter had written that he would try to get something to do in Birmingham and then send for his wife. The reason given was that he could not live on the policeman's salary of $70 a month.

Mr. Carter was put on the force 2 1/2 years ago and his record has been very satisfactory and he was popular with the public as well.

It is supposed that the Council will declare his place vacant at the next meeting and that Mayor Yost will name his successor. There are many applicants among them B. F. Hadden, E. N. Miller and Assessor C. A. Coffman.

FEAST AT LAKE TANDY

Barbecue In The Woods And Great Flow of Language.

The annual barbecue of the Hunting & Fishing Club at Lake Tandy yesterday was an occasion of much enjoyment. The weather was so oppressively hot that it was the very time for a day in the woods. The dinner was prepared in great abundance and was made up of all the good things the market affords. After dinner an assorted lot of oratory was uncorked, with Claude Clark working the corkscrew. There were orations, addresses, speeches, talks and remarks until the crowd begged for mercy. Fortunately all survived the ordeal.

SHOT AT AL RUTLAND

Jesse Underwood Admits That He Used a Shotgun At Empire.

Jesse Underwood, aged 60 years, shot at A. V. Rutland at Empire Friday. Mr. Underwood came to town Saturday and was put under bond by Judge Knight for shooting at another without wounding. On Friday Underwood swore out a warrant against Rutland and Eugene Watson, charging them with banding together to intimidate him. Underwood charges that Rutland had made improper advances to his 13-year-old daughter. Rutland he says went to his house looking for him and told Mrs. Underwood that he wanted to make him take back some charges he had heard. Underwood says he came during the commotion and went into the house and got his gun and shot at Rutland who jumped behind a tree. The shot struck the tree. Underwood says he then ran to Rutland and took his pistol away from him and his son and Mr. Watson came up and prevented further trouble. Rutland's side of the affair has not been heard.

THE TRUE ACID TEST

When Captain Showed Himself Worthy of the Uniform He Was Wearing.

"Annette," said Sister Julia seriously, "is there really anything between you and Captain Rowland?
He is certainly most attentive; and yet they say one never can tell about these army men!" She sighed; it was a heavy responsibility to matron-ize the pretty sister, ten years her junior, while, five good-looking Union officers were taking their meals at the house.

"If you mean has he asked me to marry him," Annette's long lashes resting demurely upon her glowing brunette cheeks, "why, he has—twice; and I've prevented him from doing so on two occasions. If you're asking whether we're engaged—no!"

"Then you refused him?" Her tone showed a certain surprise.
"Somehow, Net, I thought you were not exactly indifferent."

"I'm not indifferent!" Annette's black curls shook with the emphatic negative. "Honestly, Judy, I think he's just splendid, and if I was just a little surer about one thing, I wouldn't be putting on the brakes like this! I know I seem young and flighty to you; but really, I'd be afraid to marry a man unless I'd seen his disposition under fire, so to speak, and I've only seen Phil Rowland under fair weather conditions. There; does that sound as though my heart would run away with my head?" She smoothed her dark blue barge complacently over her hoopskirt and looked at Julia for approbation.

"Very sensible," nodded the elder sister, with an indulgent smile. "Personally, I like Captain Rowland very much; I hear he comes from a good family, and his manners are charming."

"To ladies who are young and attractive—oh, yes, you are nice looking, and not quite elderly, either, in spite of the old-maidy ways you have to wear, as a boarding-house missus!
And I'm not an actual fright myself.
But I'd just like to know how Phil Rowland would act toward a woman who was old and homely, and perhaps cross and unreasonable; they say that's one way to tell whether a man is a gentleman at heart. I've never had a chance to see him with that kind."

"How about our bulwark of respectability, old Anne McCloskey?"
laughed Julia; "she's a bitrotchety, but he's always pleasant to her."

"She's the cook. No sensible man is rude to the cook, Judy! Well, I just wanted you to know that you needn't worry about his trifling with my young affections, sister mine.
One doesn't live in a recruiting station like Elmira without forming some conclusions as to men in general, and soldiers in particular. Resides, father was such a perfect dear to mother, and so chivalrous to women, young or old, that my standard is high. Swear that you will tr-rust me!" she declaimed melodramati-cally, with the spirit which made her such a favorite in amateur theatricals. Julia laughed, and went away to plan dinner, with a lighter heart.

About twilight that evening, Captain Philip Rowland stood in the parlor waiting to be called to his supper. He was hungry and tired, and a bit out of humor, for his day with the new draft had been a hard one, and extra duties had delayed him beyond his regular supper hour.
Some one opened the door, and he quickly turned, hoping that Mrs.
McCloskey had come to announce his solitary meal. But instead, a thin, stooped old woman came toward him. She looked very plain, with sharp features, many fretful wrinkles, big, steel-bowed spectacles and a shabby, unbecoming dress.

"Is this where Miss Matthews lives, the one that boards army officers?" she demanded irritably. "I couldn't make any one hear at the door, so I walked right in, as long as it was carelessly left unlocked."

Captain Rowland bowed. "This is the place, madam, but I'm afraid that Miss Matthews and her sister are both out; I haven't seen them this evening."

"I don't care for her nor her sister; I wanted to find the house, because they told me down at the camp that I'd find a Captain Rowland here."

"What is my name," he said in

"Humph!" she remarked crossly, peering at him in the failing light.
"You, you're nothing but a boy. The idea of your having charge of a lot of men. But I suppose influence gets folks into positions, everywhere.
Well, my son's run away and joined the army, though he's under age, and I want to get him back. Some one that came down home from here said he was in your charge, or at least you had a lot to do with the new men, and I'd have to see you. I want you to send my son back to me," she finished, with a threatening little wag of her gray head.

"What is the young man's name?"
asked Captain Rowland, with patient courtesy, trying to forget how hungry he was.

"Ebenzer Zebulon Pettigrew," she murmured with pride, and Captain Rowland did not smile. He searched his very reliable memory for a moment, and then shook his head.

"I'm sorry, Mrs. Pettigrew, but I am positive that I have no authority over one of that name. Your son may have gone to some other point, or he may have joined under an assumed name."

"Assumed name!" snorted the old woman angrily. "My Ebenzer's too proud of his name to do such a silly thing. And, besides, I was told by an old friend I could trust that he was here only three days ago. Oh, you needn't look at me so superior, young man; I ain't afraid of you, if I am from the country!"

"I assure you," his tone was sincere and conciliating, "I am merely trying to think of the best way to help you. Tomorrow we will make a thorough search of the records—"

"Tomorrow?" she echoed angrily;
"I tell you I want him tonight!
You're trying to put me off the track, so's you can keep my Eben-zer!" Then, with a sudden change to pathos, "Oh, sir, please to give me back my boy!" She took out a large red bandanna and wept into it noisily. Captain Rowland patted her shoulder awkwardly and tried to think of something comforting to say. Just then Julia looked in at the door. He beckoned to her in great relief and explained Mrs. Pet-tigrew's predicament. "I know she's tired and hungry after her long journey," he concluded, "and if you can give her some supper and tuck her in for the night I'll be responsible.
Thank you; I knew you would! My own mother felt badly when I left home," he explained, smilingly, "so I know something about such part-ings."

But Mrs. Pettigrew, apparently overwhelmed, had sunk into a chair, and was hiding her face in her hands. Miss Julia looked at her attentively, then went closer and looked still more attentively, the corners of her mouth twitching.

"You little scamp!" was her astounding remark to the afflicted mother; and she hastily left the room, followed by a bonnet, a shawl, a reticule and a gray wig, wildly thrown by the hysterical Mrs. Pettigrew. Captain Rowland stared in bewilderment, while the lady in the chair miraculously removed a complex system of wrinkles from her face with the red bandanna, and looked up at them with the appealing brown eyes of Annette Matthews.

"Forgive me," she cried "for keeping you away from your supper and trying your patience when you're tired—and the whole absurd performance! But, you see, I just had to find out for sure whether you were the true knight I believed you were, before I could answer—what you asked me. It was a mean way to act—I see it now! You've stood the test like an angel; but you'll never, never want to ask me again, after I've treated you so—Oh, Phil!
these are Mrs. McCloskey's spectacles—don't break them, please—"

"I'm afraid you're forgetting about supper," suggested Julia at the door, a quarter of an hour later.

WHY MEN OPPOSE SUFFRAGE.

In the Woman's Home Companion
Temple Bailey writes a woman suffrage story entitled "An Army With Banners," in which one of her char-

Soldier's Most Trying Position.

The average soldier finds the most terrifying position to be that of standing motionless in the front rank, exposed to the enemy's fire without being able to reply. The order to advance or to charge with fixed bayonets is then received as a release from agony. Movement, even into greater peril, distracts the mind and greatly reduces the mental anguish.

Will Sue For Damages.

C. W. Bard, of this city, is preparing to sue the town of Dawson and W. D. Laffoon for $300 damages. A plank was lying on the sidewalk in front of Laffoon's store and a drayman threw something on one end of it, causing the other end to fly up and injure Bard's leg so that he lost five weeks from his work as foreman of a crew of carpenters.

Calloway Got Some.

Murray, Ky., July 10.—A rain, the value of which cannot be estimated, fell in this section yesterday. It had not rained here in eight weeks and the vegetation was beginning to die, and the crops have already been badly damaged. The rain began to fall at about 4 o'clock and for about thirty minutes it came in torrents. The ground was thoroughly moistened and all the living vegetation revived. Although it is rather late for a tobacco season, much tobacco will be set, as only a partial crop was set during the last season, and a good deal of this has died.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Oldham County Boy Struck While Riding Binder on His Father's Farm.

Lagrange, Ky., July 10.—Charles McRoberts, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McRoberts, living about two miles from town, was struck by lightning and killed this morning while riding a binder on his father's farm. The lightning, which was unusually severe, did considerable minor damage in this section.

Mexican Punishment.

Fierro, in addition to being a sort of lord high executioner, was in charge of the rail transportation of Villa's army until Eusebio C. Zadao took his place at the end of March. One of his water and provision trains was thirty-five minutes late after a hard night's fighting at Torreón. Villa, sleepless, dusty and hot, sent for him and gave him what might correspond to a reprimand in our service. His screams of wild rage could be heard across the camp, terrifying, maniacal, and he shook both fists in his subordinate's face. Fierro, a murderer by profession, walked away, green with passion, without lifting a hand against his chief, but half an hour later, when the delayed train pulled into its siding, cut short the conductor's explanation by shooting him dead.—The World's Work.

Least But Not Least.

Dawson Springs celebrated its thirty-third birthday anniversary a few days ago. While the youngest in years among Kentucky watering places, it is biggest in achievements. The records of the Illinois Central Railroad company show that for a number of years past it has had about 50,000 visitors annually. Last year the number was 65,000, and it is believed that even this high record will be equaled, if not exceeded, during 1914, despite the drouths and bad crops.

Down on Kid Sulkies.

If we had the authority to make the laws, or just one law in Paducah, we would prohibit the use of baby-sulkies. The most inhuman thing we know of is the practice of so many mothers of putting their tots into these vile uncomfortable things and then letting them go to sleep.—Paducah Sun.

A Picture Of Villa.

He was not of those electric personages who radiated energy. But he gave the impression of possessing great reserves of it himself. He had the physical build that so many men of action possess; he was of medium height, inclined to be thick-set, with a rather heavy sort of face (Incidentally, brown eyes, a mustache and an ugly mouth, with irregular teeth, completed the picture.) His energy he exhibited on all occasions. One day he found that some soldiers who were trying to get a horse into a stock car were not doing it to suit him. Grabbing the halter, he fairly kicked the horse into the car. He never hesitated to grab a sack or do any other physical labor when the humor suited him, in order to set the example of hard work for his men. In fact, a criticism frequently heard from his own friends was that he tried to do everything himself.—The World's Work.

Patient from Ohio County.

NERVE RACKING

Was Experience of Kentucky Woman in Mexico.

Glasgow, Ky., July 12.—Mrs. John Hall, of Mexico, formerly Miss Jennie B. Lee, of Glasgow, and daughter of the late Judge Samuel Boles, one of the most widely known criminal lawyers in the State, arrived in Glasgow today to visit her sister, Mrs. E. T. Ellison, on Broadway. Mrs. Hall had been on the road for weeks and had a thrilling experience in reaching her native land.

Mr. Hall moved to the interior of Mexico and engaged in the gold mining business. About four months ago he died. Mrs. Hall was forced to leave her home at 2 o'clock in the morning, travel hundreds of miles through rebel and federal lines, to Mexico City, and had trouble there in leaving the country. She was packed in a coach with 400 other fleeing Americans and had no sleep for forty-eight hours.

MR. WEST'S WILL

Admitted to Probate in County Court.

The will of the late W. W. West was probated in County Court a few days ago. By the terms of the instrument one fifth of the estate is to be set apart for the use and benefit of Susan Johnson during her life and at her death this is to be divided among her children.

All the rest of his property is left to his wife and at her death the residue is to be divided equally among his five children. One of his sons, Wallace West, is named as executor. The will was written March 11, 1907, and was witnessed by John A. Browning and G. C. Long.

Kentucky Annual

Encampment Ends

Lexington, Ky., July 10.—The Kentucky national guard, 2,300 strong, and Company C of the Twenty-ninth infantry, United States regulars, under Col. William J. Nicholson, who have been encamped at Bluegrass park for the last ten days in annual encampment, broke camp at noon and the soldiers started for their home towns on special trains.

"I consider this one of the most successful camps of state troops that I have ever attended," said Colonel Nicholson, who was chief camp instructor during the encampment. "To my mind, the Kentucky guard is in fine condition, and in the event of war with Mexico, the Kentucky brigade, enthusiastic as it is, and with its high spirits, could take its place beside regular troops with very little training."

Colonel Nicholson and his regulars will leave on the Queen & Crescent Carolina special, for the next instruction camp, which will be with the Tennessee national guard, beginning July 11.

Fair And Very Warm.

Washington, July 12.—Generally fair weather with temperatures about normal east of the Rocky mountains and below normal on the Pacific slope was the forecast by the weather bureau tonight for the coming week.

"Widely scattered thunderstorms are probable," said the bulletin, "but no important disturbance is charted to cross the country during the week."

AT AUCTION.

AGED FARMER

Passes Away After Long Illness.

Mr. George W. Embry died yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Embry had been in declining health for about four years and death was due to the infirmities of age.

He was 72 years old and a member of Olivet Baptist church. Four children, three sons and one daughter, survive. The children are Robert Embry, of this city, and Morton and Miss Sallie Embry and Mrs. D. C. Keatts, all of the Howell neighborhood.

Mr. Embry was a much esteemed citizen and leaves a host of friends. The interment will take place this morning at the Fox burying ground, near Howell.

Cotton Culture.

"A New System of Cotton Culture and Its Application," is the title of a publication recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. The publication sets forth the need of shortening the growing season of cotton as the best means of securing protection against injury from the boll weevil, and thus insuring larger production at smaller comparative cost. The system recommended is also important for regions where the crop is limited by drouth or by short season.

A Shelby Move.

At Shelbyville where a county unit petition for a prohibition vote has been filed, a city petition was presented from Shelbyville Saturday. It is generally understood that the petition presented is the first step in the necessary legal procedure to test the constitutionality of the county unit act, and that the case will be carried through the courts. The action came as an entire surprise to all except the few who originated the plan.

State Wage Commission.

Olympia, Wash., July 13.—The state minimum wage commission adopted last night a rate of $9 a week as the minimum for telephone girls throughout the state, except in small exchanges.

Bride Ordered to Disrobe.

Philadelphia, July 12.—While her young husband was away at his employment a robber entered the home of Mrs. Helen Harney, 912 Consted street, married but a few weeks, and at the point of a pistol ordered her to disrobe. Fearfully and almost in hysterics she obeyed the command. Then the intruder locked her in the bathroom and proceeded leisurely to ransack the house.

An Old Timer.

J. F. Crunk, of Springfield, who has been with the L. & N. Railroad 44 years, has written a sketch of the road that is quite interesting. He was with the E. & K. two years, with the E. H. & N. one year, with the St. L. & S. E. five years and with the L. & N. 36 years. Mr. Crunk has taught the telegraph business to 19 boys and one girl in that time.

Union Services.

Sunflowers Supplant Tobacco.

Farmers in the vicinity of Hatfield and Kensington, Ind., have given up the cultivation of tobacco plants because of the drought and instead have set their land out in sunflowers. The sunflowers are threshed like wheat and the seed sold as poultry food, bringing $30 a ton. Over 3,000 acres are set out in sunflowers, according to City Sesler. John Wallenmeier and other farmers are taking up the idea.

No Takers.

The first wager on the Senatorial race so far reported was made in Louisville, when a Seventh district politician put up $50 at even money that Stanley would carry the Seventh district in the August primary. An offer to wage $50 that Stanley would carry Franklin county, the home of Gov. Beckham, met with no takers. The anti-Beckham forces have all along contended that Franklin county is lost to the former Governor.—La Center Advance.

New Elks Home.

The Elks of Princeton formally opened their new club rooms last week with an open session, followed by a reception and dance.

Marse Henri's Remedy.

The way ahead is plain. We should take military possession of Mexico precisely as we took military possession of Cuba. We should from the City of Mexico prescribe absolutely the future government of the country and support it by force of arms until all danger is passed. We should arrange to take over Lower California, Sonora and so much of Northern Mexico as will insure good neighborhood upon the border. Meanwhile we should regard every Mexican politician the servant of some aggregation of organized capital, every military chieftain as a cut-throat and bandit. The work to be done may be rough, but it should be thorough, and if Mr. Wilson does not do it the country will get a President who will.—Courier-Journal.

WITHOUT POWER TO RESENT

Man Might Fume at His Rival but Under the Circumstances He Could Do Nothing.

He walked up and down the room, gesticulating excitedly and saying uncomplimentary things about his rival.

"It is terrible!" he said.

"What is terrible?" they asked.

"Talk about the problem of the Man in the Iron Mask," he exclaimed, ignoring the question.

"Why, this is a thousand times worse than that!"

"What is it?" they asked.

"My rival has been carrying false stories about me to the girl I love!" he cried.

"And what did you do?" they asked.

"Nothing," he answered. "I was powerless."

They laughed scornfully and made jests at his expense.

"What would you advise me to do?" he inquired.

"Kill him!" they replied.

He shook his head.

"At least they insisted," you could thrash him within an inch of his life; you could resent an insult by pounding him until he would figure principally as a nonentity for the next six or eight weeks."

"You forget," he said.

"Forget what?" they demanded.

This I, moreover, hold and dare affirm where'er my rhyme may go. Whatever things he sweet or fair, love makes them so. Whether the dazzling and the flush of softly sumptuous garden bowers, or by some cabin door, a bush of ragged flowers.—Alice Cary.

Waiting doesn't pay. If you neglect kidney backache. Urinary troubles often follow. Act in time by curing the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weakened kidneys.

Many people in this locality recommend them.

Here's one Earlington case: Monroe Davis, butcher, Earlington Ky., says: "For quite awhile I had been afflicted with weak kidneys and my back ached intensely. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in the papers, I got a supply and they cured me in a short time. I can highly recommend this remedy."

Moses and the Commandments.

A simple cross marks the spot which investigators of Sinai have decided is the place where Moses read out to the children of Israel the laws of God. The mountain itself must stand for the monument. Rus Safah, the elevation on which the cross stands, is wild, barren and rocky. About three hundred yards from the base of the mountain there runs across the plain a low, semi-circular mound which forms a kind of natural theater; while farther distant, on either side of the plain, the slopes of the enclosing mountains would afford seats to an almost unlimited number of spectators. Not far off there is an extensive recess which was probably used as a camping ground. No spot on the whole peninsula is so well supplied with water and pasture.—Strand Magazine.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

Improving Submarines.

The day is approaching when the going submarines of high speed will accompany the mail boat on the high seas. Large vessels of this type, of 21 knots speed, have been designed for the United States navy. Great Britain is building, in the Nautilus, the largest submarine in existence, which is intended to be as seaworthy while on the surface as the latest type of destroyer. Its surface speed will be not less than 21 knots, and it will have a submerged speed of from 15 to 16 knots; it will carry six torpedo tubes, and the surface displacement will be about one thousand five hundred tons.

REMEDY FOR WOOLLY APHIS

Finely Powdered Tobacco or Waste Stems Will Prove Effective in Eradication of Insects.

(By F. H. HILLMAN.)
Some effective remedies for the woolly aphis are as follows:
For the apple root form, which causes knots or swellings on the smaller roots—remove the earth, three or four inches of soil, about the crown for a distance of two to four feet from the tree and sprinkle in four to six pounds of finely powdered tobacco.
Waste tobacco stems, which can be purchased very cheaply, can be used in place of powdered tobacco.
Natural enemies do far more than is generally supposed toward reducing the number of aphids, but in a dry season, especially, nature must be assisted if these insects are to be kept reduced to nondestructive numbers.
Kerosene emulsion is an efficient

Woolly Aphids—A, Root of Young Tree Showing Deformation; B, Section of

It; C, Root Louse.

remedy. Add one part of a boiled mixture of one-half pound of common soap and a gallon of water, two parts of kerosene, dilute with cold water to form 15 to 20 parts. A double handful of refuse tobacco, boiled in a gallon of water and diluted to form six or eight gallons, is a valuable and easily prepared remedy.

Carbolic soap dissolved and so diluted that a decided odor of carbolic odor still remains, is another very effective remedy.
Preventive measures may be followed by thoroughly washing in strong soapsuds, the roots of young trees on transplantation in case the presence of the aphids is suspected.
Often times it may prove best to destroy a badly infected tree, and replace it at all by some tree other than an apple.

KEEP A DAILY TALLY SHEET

Written Record Often Proves Valuable in Recalling Some Little Transaction on the Farm.

On our farm place there was hung in a convenient passageway a large slate for the purpose of hastily jotting down any notable happening occurring during the day.

Each evening the accounts were permanently tabulated and kept for any later day references which might occur, assisting in making a decided point.

In this simple way a great deal of the tax and liability of endeavoring to recollect or that happening on the farm was removed and the tomorrow begun afresh—every day in reality a new beginning with the preceding day's hard work forgotten, cleaned off the slate and the minds of proprietor and helpers.

One has no idea how often such a slate will prove the many instances and transactions taking place in a year on a farm of only ten acres, though at the time they seem of trifling account, but later are worth recalling for some purpose to some one who wishes data.
This kind of a written record refreshes and proves interesting to look over at any time; it tells of a certain amount of labor that has been passed over, of blunders, successes, failures that have been entirely forgotten.

It also gives a history of the help employed, which is of importance in recommending them to others.

In the various industries of stock raising, poultry work, fruit growing, dairying, hay and grain raising, in erecting buildings, the whole story may be given off the "slate tally" day by day by those most interested on the farm.—F. R.

Success in Hog Breeding.

One of the most successful hog breeders in Illinois says that he never breeds from sows under 12 months and never keeps his breeding stock fat. This man thinks that much trouble with very young pigs is caused by feeding them too early and that they should not be fed until they have grown big enough to exhaust their mother's milk entirely.

Soybeans and Cowpeas.

The power of the soybeans and cowpeas to gather nitrogen from the air, the large amount of organic matter they are capable of producing and their beneficial effect upon the tilth of heavy soils are qualities which commend them in the highest degree, to any nothing of their value as feeding stuffs.

HARDEST WORK TO BE FOUND

No One Looking for a Sinecure Would Eagerly Take Up the Job of War Correspondent.

The work of a war correspondent,
if he is the real thing, is no sinecure.
General Sherman threatened to hang all of them he found with his army.

The Japanese would allow no newspaper men to go to the front with their soldiers. I know one of the American army officers who was detailed on "observation" duty with the Japs. Whenever anything really big was to occur, the Japanese officers arranged a polite little ceremonial to take the foreign officer about ten miles from the seat of action.

They didn't want to be "observed" when performing their hardest fighting.

I knew quite well some of the English correspondents in the South African war. One of them lost his arm.
He was the original of the "Great War Eagle" in Kipling's "Light That Failed."

Archibald Forbes did more strenuous work, perhaps, than two-thirds of the officers in the wars in which he made his brilliant reputation as a correspondent.

Napoleon didn't allow correspondents, as we know them, to travel with headquarters. In our Revolution, although many weekly papers were published at the time, the news was old. Nobody ever mentioned the sufferings at Valley Forge while it was happening.

Rothschild "beat" the newspaper correspondents at Waterloo, because he got back to London first with the news and made millions by his inside knowledge. He bought securities which had been greatly depressed by a fear of Napoleon's triumph.—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE SPRING HATS

Wife—I saw a dream of a hat today, dearest.

Hubby—Buy it while it may be had. Most of 'em are nightmares this year.

ASS WAS OUTCLASSED.

A silly ass tried his strength against a steam engine recently.
When the 8:32 train from Tallaght was coming into Templeogue the other day, a donkey wandered out from a gateway and was struck by the engine. The animal was evidently knocked up against the wall, and rebounded under the first carriage of the train, which was derailed, causing considerable consternation amongst the passengers. The driver pulled up promptly, and thus averted what might have been a serious catastrophe. Owing to the position of the derailed carriage, traffic was interrupted for a considerable time.
Needless to add, the donkey was killed, and he is the third member of his race to have joined the silent majority in consequence of his hardi-hood in grazing on the train line.
About a week ago two fine specimens of the asinine tribe were done to death by the steam train within a few hundred yards of where the present accident occurred.—London Mail.

WISH EASILY GRATIFIED.

"A great deal that we call pleasure is largely imaginary," said the ready-made philosopher.

"I suppose so," replied the man who was working on his automobile.
"Now, wouldn't you like to be able to take a long ride without having to worry about speed limits or spurk plugs or tires or anything at all?"

"I should say so!"
"Well, here's a street-car ticket."
—Washington Star.

APPROPRIATE.

Knicker—They are planning state pensions for widowed mothers.

Booker—Shouldn't there be a little of the long green for grass widows?
—Judge.

MEN IN MIND IN HOPKINSVILLE

People of Prominence In The Pearl City of The Penny-royal.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH NO. 34.

Ollie G. Sprouse, Who Returns This Week To His Former Home, Springfield.

The picture presented today is that of O. G. Sprouse, head of the O. G. Sprouse Co., who has for the last two years been a potent factor in the commercial life of Hopkinsville. He is this week returning to his former home at Springfield, Tenn., but he will leave behind the reputation of having been one of the city's liveliest business men and up to the time his store was destroyed by fire he was building up a big and profitable business in dry goods and clothing. He was hit hard by the calamity that caught him with his new stock on the shelves and his efforts since that time have been devoted to closing out his damaged goods, having decided to consolidate his two stores once more in Springfield. Practically all of his unsold goods were packed up and shipped to that place last week and Mr. Sprouse himself left yesterday.

O. G. SPROUSE

Hopkinsville loses a stirring, enterprising and progressive merchant. He leaves the city with the good wishes of a large number of friends made during his stay. His slogan "Walk a Block and Save a Dollar," will be remembered for a long time, having been adopted by reason of the location of his store a block or two from the shopping district. His departure is regretted for many reasons, principal among them being that it throws out of employment a number of employees whom the city does not want to see seek employment elsewhere and it leaves a business temporarily vacant for the first time in a long while.

Mr. Sprouse's friends here hope to see him close out his interests in Springfield and return to Hopkinsville.

Mrs. Vest Felt Like Crying.

Wallace, Va.—Mrs. Mary Vest, of this place, says: "I hadn't been very well for three years, and at last was taken bad. I could not stand on my feet, I had such pains. I ached all over. I felt like crying all the time. Mother insisted on my trying Cardui. Now I feel well, and do nearly all my housework." No medicine for weak ailing women, has been so successful as Cardui. It goes to the spot relieving pain and distress, and building up womanly strength, in a way that will surely please you. Only try it once.

OPPORTUNITY WEEK AGAIN IN KENTUCKIAN AUTO CONTEST

Two Thousand Extra Votes With Each Dollar Turned In on Subscription By Saturday Night, July 18.

The busy days are here with the contestants in the Kentuckian automobile and trip contest. As a special inducement and encouragement to those who want to better prepare for the final count on Aug. 15, the contest manager will allow 2,000 bonus votes with each and every dollar turned in on subscriptions this week. This offer will expire Saturday night, July 18, and will not be repeated or extended.

Work this week and take full advantage of this most liberal offer. No better offer will be made at any time during this contest. Those who have just started can take advantage of this offer and secure enough votes to take the lead. No one has a great lead over the other contestants, and no one else has so few votes that she is handicapped, as there is plenty of time to commence now and win.

Sunday Was a Scorching With 106 Degrees of Heat.

The official weather report for Hopkinsville gave the temperature as 106 in the kiosk in Weather Reporter W. F. Randle's yard. This was by one degree the hottest day in the season. On June 26 it was 105. The sun rapidly dried up the two little showers of last Thursday and Friday, aggregating .35 of an inch, leaving the ground as dry as ever. No cases of prostrations have been reported.

PAINLESS DENTISTRY.

Is Goal Sought and Almost Attained by American Dentists.

Rochester, N. Y., July 12.—Extraction and treatment of teeth without pain is the goal sought by American dentists and almost attained. This was demonstrated at free clinics being held in connection with the eighteenth annual convention here of the American Dental Association, experts using a mixture of gas which absolutely deadens pain while leaving the patient wholly conscious.

Canada's mackerel fisheries are prospering again, after many years of exhaustion.

Esau, He Saw.

We read in one of our mountain exchanges where Esau Moore saved a woman from drowning. The woman, it appears fell off a log and Esau, he saw unless something was done she was going to the bottom of the stream for keeps. He grabbed her as she was going under the second time and landed her on a sandbar at the psychological moment, upside down or down side-up, or any old way so as to get her out of the water and get the water out of her. Anyhow, Esau he saw that she was delivered over to her friends and relatives in damp bad order and they saw Esau in the light of a Carnegie hero. The woman is now glad that she saw Esau about the same time that he saw her. As for Esau Moore it is probable that he saw more than he wanted to see under the circumstances.—La Center Advance.
